HAVE A LOOK

AT OUR SILVER LEVER WATCH at Rs. 35 before buying, and you will give it the preference before any other.

The Watch as it is now, is the result of 20 years experience in the Indian watch trade, and we guarantee it to be the most perfect watch ever offered to the public for such a small outlay.

Being the manufacturers ourselves, the buyer obtains the watch from first hand. This explains its cheapness.

The Watches are of medium size in heavy engine turned silver cases, either hunting or half hunting. Guarantee 3 years.

To be obtained only direct from our firms at Bombay, Calcutta, and Secunderabad.

THE BOARD OF REVENUE OF THE STATE OF PORTUGUESE INDIA.

NO 18.—The GOVERNMENT of PORTUGUESE INDIA requiring five hundred (500) tons of COAL for the use of the Government Steam Launches, hereby invites TENDERS for the supply of the same. Tenders to be sent in up to the 10th September next in sealed covers and addressed to the office of the Secretary to the Board.

Tenders should specify the price of the coal per ton laid down at Goa, each ton containing 70 arrobas of 32 lbs. each (2240 lbs.)

The coal to be a mixture of Cardiff and Newcastle (Davidson West Hartley) in equal parts (250 tons of each quality.)

Only such tenders as may be most advantageous to the Government may be accepted, but the adjudication of the contract will be made by public auction before the Board, the first bid commencing with the rate in the tender accepted.

The auction will take place on the 23rd September at 2 p.m. in the building where the Sessions of the said Board are held at New Goa.

The delivery of the coal to be made at the depot of the Flotilla Department to the persons duly authorized to receive the same at the risk of the Tenderer up to the time of the delivery of the coal and receipt thereof by the said authorized persons.

The delivery of the coal to be made on the following dates, viz, 200 tons up to 15th October next, and the remaining three hundred tons by the end of February, 1886.

The cost of the coal will only be paid on presentation to the Secretary of the Board of an authentic and legal document from the said authorized persons to the effect that the delivery was duly made in the terms of the contract and on the issue by the same Board of Revenue of an order for the said payment.

The contract will not be drawn up unless a previous deposit of rupees one thousand (Rs. 1,000) be not made at the Public Treasury at Goa.

On the Tenderer failing to comply with the terms of the contract or with any of them the deposit (Rs. 1,000) to be forfeited without dispute in favour of the Board.

The Tenderer, if a foreign subject, to relinquish all rights as such and subject himself in case of any dispute in connection with the conditions of contract, payment of the cost of the coal, or the forfeiture of the deposit to the decisions of the respective Courts at Goa.

The deposit money will be returned on fulfilment of the contract and at the time of the payment for the coal supplied.

Office of the secretary to the board of revenue at new Goa, 20th August, 1885.

JOAS JOAQUIM G'OLIVEIRA NOGAR,
Secretary to the Board.

"I HEREBY REVOKE all the wills I have made previous to THIS DAY, 11th August, 1885."

WATCH MANUFACTURERS.

BOMBAY AND POONA.

THE ONLY "CAMPAIGN" WATCH OF THE DAY.

Rs. 35.

THE CASE is strongly made in best German Silver, so finished that it could hardly be distinguished from Real Silver, and retains its original Brightness for a considerable time, is air tight, dust and Waterproof.

OUR "CAMPAIGN" WATCH. AS A TIME KEEPER it is equal to the best watch produced. Read what the Extra Assistant Commissioner, Tavoy, B. B. says.—I have the honour to acknowledge receipt of the Crystal faced keyless lever watch you sent me, and to inform you that is a very strong and neat one, and in my opinion far superior to those sold for double the money by other firms in India, as it will stand a great deal of rough usage. The other day I compared it with one of Mr. J. W. Benson's Chronometer Watch, and found it neither loss nor gain a single minute after a week's trial. I would therefore be glad to recommend it in every way. It is a faithful time-keeper at so reasonable a price.—TAVOY, 28th May, 1885.

GUARANTEE 2 YEARS. OUR "CAMPAIGN" WATCH.—For Use.—It is suitable for everyday, Shikar, Gymkhana, Campaign, and the Roughest use. The motion of the body does not affect the movement of the watch in the least.

OUR "CAMPAIGN WATCH."—IMITATIONS.—Various watches are now offered to the public under this name. We guarantee none Genuine unless bearing our name on inner plate.

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

THURSDAY EVENING, AUG. 27.

The tenour of the political telegrams from London continues steadily in favour of peace, and the advance of ¼ in Consols yesterday to 100¼ may be regarded as emphasising that view of the situation as amongst commercial people. French Rentes continue at 109, and the only change in Indian Securities is a recovery of ¼ in 4 per cent. Rupee Paper, and ¼ in 4½ per cent.

In the Produce markets on Tuesday Linseed was dull and partially 3d. per quarter lower, Rapeseed also dull and 6d. to 1s. down. Wheat in London was unchanged, but Liverpool prices were 1d. per cental in favour of buyers. Yesterday there was no movement.

Cotton in Liverpool on Tuesday closed with a hardening tendency, the sales being 8,000 bales, including 600 Surats. Prices on the spot were unaltered, but to arrive Americans were 1-32d. to 1-16d. higher. Yesterday's market was still firm in tone, but the business only totalled 6,000 bales, and quotations were unaltered both for ready and forward. In New York no change has taken place since Thursday last.

The market has undergone no noteworthy change, the additional firmness in Liverpool inducing no improvement in the export inquiry here, and of old Cotton purchases continue to be restricted to the daily buying of the local mills. In New Bengals we hear of a purchase on European account of 200 bales fully good November-December delivery at Rs. 157, which is within Re. 1 per candy of the lowest quotation we have so far recorded.

Crop reports continue on the average fairly good. In parts of Khandeish, the Deccan, and the Southern Mahratta Country the cry is still for more rain, but in the North-West, Guzerat, and Kattywar fine weather is wanted. The Berars seem to be having weather to order, judging from the favourable reports we consistently receive.

Wheat is not changed in position. Extreme quietness is the prevailing feature, but prices remain much as before, certainly no lower, the very moderate supplies available rendering sellers firmer than the character of the market would otherwise warrant. Some business is reported in No. 1 Club Delhi at Rs. 3-11 per cwt., but other quotations are nominal. Ekdani at Rs. 3-13 and Red Delhi at Rs. 3-7 per cwt.

Seeds.—Linseed has receded to Rs. 6-7-6 per cwt., bazaar terms, buyers having apparently covered their more pressing wants, while home accounts are weak. In Rapeseed we hear of no business.

Freights are flat, with an easier tendency. No new charters are reported, and we quote the following as market rates :—

		Forward.

Exchange.—The biddings for Council drafts in London yesterday resulted in 10 lakhs of bills being allotted on Calcutta at 1s. 6¾d., at which tenders received 80 per cent. and 1 lakh of telegraphic transfer also on Calcutta at 1s. 6 11-16d. As compared with last week, when 10 lakhs were placed at 1s. 6 21-32d., the result is not particularly favourable ; nor can the fact of Government announcing an increase in the amount to be offered for tender next week from 10 to 15 lakhs be considered a strengthening feature. Still, with Bar Silver unchanged at 43 9-16d. the tone of the market here has been firmly maintained, and Bank paper has been obtainable on rather more favourable terms for remitters. We quote :—

MENIST'S PERFECT PEBBLE SPECTACLES.

MESSRS. MARCKS and COMPANY, Ld., in re-organising the optician department of their business desire to bring into still greater prominence these universally popular, though highly priced, spectacles which their long experience enables them to recommend with confidence as being really what the name implies the most perfect spectacles that can be worn—Only the purest and hardest Brazillian pebble is used, and being cut on the principle, parallel to the plane of the natural cleavage of the crystal, the lenses are entirely free from prismatic refraction while in the frames of the very best materials and the most perfect finish, special modifications in form have been made, to meet the various defects of vision they are designed to correct, suggested by, and resulting from, his wide practical experience of the subject, and the exactness will be found to be more than fully compensated by the satisfaction and benefit which will be derived from their use.

First class certificate and silver medal, the Highest Award for excellence.

Calcutta Exhibition 1883-84.

In taking over the above agency the Company have made arrangements in virtue of which they are now able to offer.

DEATH.

WALKER—August 22, at Ahmedabad, Violet Clementina Travis, beloved infant child of J. W. Walker, C.S., and A. C. Walker, aged 8 months and 23 days.

The Bombay Gazette

FRIDAY, AUGUST 28, 1885.

The address which Lord Reay delivered to the members of the Forest Commission at Poona yesterday is a more than appropriate inauguration of the labours of the Commission. We should describe it as a thoughtful utterance, were there not some danger lest thoughtfulness should be as conventionally attributed to the Governor of Bombay as justice was to Aristides. By this time the people of the Presidency have learnt to look upon it as an essential and inseparable element of the Governor's speeches, and henceforth it will be deemed a superfluous commendation of them to speak of them as thoughtful. The true merit of the address to the Forest Commission was that it put their inquiry, in the main, upon a sound basis. Here and there is a passage which, we suspect, will confirm the disappointment which the definition of the scope of the Commissioners' investigation awakened when it was made public a few weeks ago. If it was satisfactory to learn from Lord Reay that the official members of the Commission had been appointed, not as delegates or representatives of the Government, it was less satisfactory to learn that they had been appointed to "give" their own views, for the primary purpose of a commission of inquiry is to receive information, rather than to give it. And again, there is something more than a nominal distinction between the "rights" which the forest people claim, and the "privileges" which the Government advisedly and consistently retain in their definition of the subject of inquiry. The disappearance of original rights, and their reduction to privileges, is, we know, a process commonly attendant upon social development, and a society which, on looking back to its origins, finds land itself to have once been the subject of common possession, can scarcely expect that every ancient right will be stereotyped and eternal. But in this matter the allegation is that the transition from right to privilege has not been a process of evolution, but that it has been sudden and ostensible, and an event within the actual experience—the onerous experience—of the present generation of forest tribes. It may be that the Government have an abundant justification for excluding this subject from the investigation of the Commission ; but they have not been so careful to reveal it as to proclaim, directly and indirectly, their intention of excluding it. Apart from these two points there is nothing in the Governor's address which will fail to give satisfaction to every one concerned in the inquiry. The Forest officials will naturally welcome the well-chosen words in which Lord Reay threw the ægis of Government responsibility around them. They remove the personal element from the controversy, and so far their effect will be wholesome. The Government, it must be admitted, have not shown a disposition to be content with a nominal responsibility for the forest administration of the Bombay Presidency. The elaborate series of Resolutions which have from time to time issued from the Secretariat, providing in detail for the special requirements of separate districts—separate talookas even—reveal a very genuine desire to give the utmost elasticity and the utmost variety to an administration which has confessedly to fit in with a variety of local conditions. Lord Reay claims to have set before himself a very exacting ideal in his efforts to solve the problem. He told the Commission yesterday that he believed that if the District Boards had had to deal with these questions they would not in their decisions have come to conclusions differing very materially from those to which the Government had come in framing their Resolutions for the various localities. This is saying much for the District Boards, and not less for the Government itself. Lord Reay scarcely made too much of the recent Resolutions when he claimed that a great deal had already been done to reduce the hardships of the forest tribes to a minimum. They must be looked upon, however, as in the main tentative and incomplete provisions, whose merits will be tested and whose deficiencies will be indicated in the course of the inquiry. Upon the general principles of forest policy which Lord Reay laid down there will be no difference of opinion. The forest population themselves ought to understand that the preservation of the forests from wanton injury is necessary in their interest and in the interest of the community at large. No country has been negligent in this matter without having to pay dearly for its negligence. The agricultural poverty of modern Greece is directly attributable to the profligate destruction of its forests and the climatic changes which have resulted therefrom. In the South of France in North Italy the ruthless clearance of the hill-sides has had disastrous effect. In both countries alike and people alike have learnt wisdom, and the lessons of their costly experience have penetrated even into Spain, where a Minister of Finance who had proposed to cut down a portion of the State forests had a year or two since to pay for his improvident proposals by the loss of his office. Upon the general proposition that the sylvan wealth of India must be conserved there can, then, be no difference of opinion. But our forests constitute an estate which must be administered, not as though it were an estate isolated from everything around it. The forests are a wealth in themselves, but they are still a part of the common wealth, and they must be administered in due relation to it. Lord Reay's wholesome sensitiveness to the essential relation of our forest policy to the agricultural interests of the community has from the first given certain promise that he would avoid all narrow, specialist views of the question. Where the interests of forest conservation come in conflict with the ascertained interests of the cultivating classes they must give way. Strict and uncompromising conservation may bring in enhanced gains to the Department, but an increased forest revenue would be no true source of profit, if it were realised at the cost of the agricultural community. Lord Reay is too thorough an economist to be indifferent to the great truth which Bastiat enunciated, that there is an essential harmony between all legitimate interests, or to be doubtful of the possibility of establishing a harmony between the two apparently competing but really co-ordinate interests of agriculture and forest conservancy. His confession of a strong bias in favour of the agriculturist bespeaks the confidence of the classes immediately concerned in the outcome of the inquiry. For the grievances involved are in nine cases out of ten the grievances of agriculturists. The rab question is their question exclusively, and so is the question of grazing rights—"valuable and long-established rights" Lord Randolph Churchill, by the way, calls them, "privileges" they are called by the Bombay Government and its officers. The points in dispute which lie outside the strictly agricultural area are of secondary concern, and may be adjudicated upon with comparative ease. As to the method of inquiry which it is proposed to pursue, we do not think that those who have most eagerly embraced the cause of the forest people have either complaint to make or suggestion to offer. It is essentially a roving Commission to which the task has been alloted. The Commissioners will go from place to place, hearing on the spot the plaints of the people in each locality, and judging by a personal view of the actual working of the existing arrangements. If they set about their work in the spirit in which Lord Reay has dismissed them to it, there should be little disappointment with the result of their labours.

The Executive Committee of the Bombay Exhibition resolved, at a meeting on the 13th July, to postpone for three months the [illegible]s was that which came before Mr. Cooper yesterday.

The decision of the Chief Presidency Magistrate yesterday in the case of the man charged with an attack upon Mr. Marzban's carriage was scarcely based upon the principle that the law should be a terror to evildoers and a protection to peaceable citizens. The most lenient view of the man's conduct would represent it as a gross outrage, and to treat it as an ordinary case of being drunk and disorderly was to put out of sight the worst part of the offence. Seven days' imprisonment is, in England, the stereotyped alternative to a fine for the common offence of being drunk and riotous, and it may be safely said that no magistrate there would give the option of even a heavy fine to a prisoner whose offence was so little removed from an attemp

LORD REAY'S ADDRESS TO THE FOREST COMMISSION.

(FROM OUR SPECIAL REPORTER.)

POONA, AUG. 27.

Lord Reay opened the Forest Commission at the Council Hall, Poona, to-day, and made an important address. There was a large attendance of the principal native inhabitants of Poona, and representatives from Tanna, Nasik, and other places were also present.

His Excellency said:—Mr. Chairman and gentlemen,—I have asked permission to attend here to-day to thank you in the first place for the way in which you have placed your services at the disposal of the Government. You have a very delicate and difficult task to perform. You will, I am sure, acquit yourselves of the trust reposed in you with complete independence. The value of your labours will be enhanced if you lay down in your report the conclusions to which you may have been led by the inquiry, however varied they may be. It is perhaps not superfluous for me to add that the members of the Commission who represent the Civil Service are not acting in any way on the Commission as delegates or representatives of Government, but have been appointed to give their own views, the results of their own experience. You will on the other hand have to deal not with individual actions or the opinions of individual Government officers, but with the effect of Resolutions for which Government is all-responsible. As long as the actions of a Government officer are sanctioned by the open or tacit approval of Government, Government is responsible. I need not here enter elaborately on the various causes which have led to the appointment of this Commission, but it is a remarkable fact that both the late and present Secretary of State have approved of the institution of this inquiry, and the sanction of His Excellency the Viceroy has also been obtained. The importance of the subject has been recognised, therefore, on all sides. Since I have had the honour of being charged with my present duties the matter has been a constant source of anxiety to me. Agricultural problems have always struck me as peculiarly interesting, and the more one looks into the various agricultural systems of various countries the more one becomes convinced that over-legislation in agricultural matters is a mistake, and that in the present condition of agricultural science, which is not by any means as far advanced as it ought to be, we must be careful to interfere as little as possible. Agricultural centralisation would certainly lead to disastrous consequences. To introduce into Lancashire the agricultural system of the lowlands of Scotland or the Ulster custom would betray rashness. Local wants, local customs, and local systems of village tenure have a right not to be wantonly disturbed unless a very good cause be shown for it. In many instances a scientific justification for local agricultural practices unconsciously observed by the population will be forthcoming. I approach agricultural questions with a strong bias in favour of the agriculturist, as every Scotsman would who has been accustomed in Scotland to give the most respectful consideration to the experience of shrewd farmers and shepherds and farm servants. In his speech on the Indian Budget the Secretary of State asked the question, how are you on the one hand to obtain the most desirable objects of preserving and renewing the forests, without on the other hand entailing hardships on the people by depriving them of valuable and long-established rights? That is the question which has constantly presented itself to me. I believe, however, that if forest conservancy tends to increase the supply of fodder and fuel for the people of this country the enterprise will meet with their support, and has a right to their sympathy. I also believe that the hardships can be mitigated, and that we have recently done a great deal to reduce them to a minimum. My chief object is to substitute co-operation for antagonism, confidence for distrust, contentment for disturbance. The worst result of centralisation is that measures which must inevitably benefit the people ultimately take longer time for their acceptance than if they had been settled locally. In every forest settlement which I have dealt with, I have always carefully considered the peculiar circumstances of the locality, the existing resources for feeding of cattle and for the extension of cultivation, and the advantages which would accrue to the inhabitants from forest conservancy. And now, gentlemen, let me say that I believe that if our district boards had to deal with these questions they would not in their decisions come to conclusions differing very materially from those to which we have come. We are at great disadvantage because we have very often to decide at a distance intricate questions, and I for one have very keenly felt the responsibility of deciding between the conflicting opinions of local officers who perform their difficult duties with great care. One thing, however, is quite clear. If you wish to have improved fodder and more fuel, you must allow your plantations to grow; you must protect the young growth by closing such areas; you must dispose those areas in such a way that you cause a minimum of inconvenience to those who used to find on such areas pasture for their cattle. On the grazing question your report will no doubt throw light, but meanwhile you may take for granted that it is the determination of Government that wherever free grazing has been lawfully enjoyed it will be continued by giving a full equivalent in all those cases where the area hitherto used has been absorbed. I do not think that the people will have anything to complain of, as the equivalent will be an improvement on what formerly provided them with an insufficient supply. How, when, and where areas are to be closed; how, when, and in what numbers cattle are to be admitted to open areas, and on what conditions, seem to me to be essentially questions which must be settled on the spot by the combined action of the revenue officers and the forest officers, and on which Government can only lay down general principles. I may give an illustration from my own personal experience. By the last mail I instructed my agent, who had asked me whether I wanted pasture or timber, to settle the matter on the spot. Your Commission will fulfil the mandate contained in the Government Resolution of July 24, unhampered by any extraneous influence. A speedy, full, and local investigation of the forest conservancy of the district of Tanna will, however, be most welcome to the Government, as it wishes to obtain your advice in detail on the situation of that district, which affords scope for the examination of nearly all the questions with which Government have to deal. You will, I doubt not, assist the Government in its endeavours to remove legitimate grievances. You will also assist Government in preventing wanton destruction of timber—a proceeding utterly unwarrantable, and most demoralising and injurious to the local national interests. A strong Government does not stand in need of exceptional measures to put a stop to such vandalism. This Commission will strengthen, not weaken, the ultimate actions of Government. It will uphold law and order; promote one of the chief elements of agriculture, namely, good pasture; promote harmony between the administration on the one side and the people on the other, whose interests will be ably represented on this Commission, not only by those whom they will perhaps more especially consider as their representatives, but also by officials whose desire I know, from personal experience, it is to preserve to the people privileges to which naturally they attach great value. You enjoy the confidence of Government, but your labours, gentlemen, will, I am sure, give you a further title to the gratitude of the people of the Presidency.

FEMALE EDUCATION IN THE DECCAN.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

POONA, AUG. 27.

There was a most interesting gathering of European and native ladies and gentlemen at the Town Hall this evening, the occasion being the distribution of prizes to the successful pupils of the Female Training College and City Schools.

The Hon. Mr. Pate, who presided, made a sympathetic speech, expressing himself perfectly satisfied with the work done by Miss Collett, the lady superintendent of the College.

Mr. Lee-Warner, acting Director of Public Instruction, also addressed the meeting. He observed that considering the amount of prejudice the advocates of female education had to encounter, the Training College has up to this turned out a moderately good number of teachers.

It may be noted that at the present there are thirty-nine pupils, including some widows, under training for the work of teachers.

The children treated the gathering to some Marathi songs and recitations, and the little ones gave a very interesting exhibition in drill.

Prizes were distributed by Mr. Peile.

THERE were only five deaths from cholera in Bombay during the past week, but in the districts it is reported to have been general. At Kurrachee there were only 7 cases and 5 deaths; Shikarpore, 76 cases, 62 deaths; Hyderabad, 13 cases, 9 deaths; Upper Sind Frontier, 9 cases; Ahmedabad, 32 cases, 12 fatal; Kaira, 17 cases, 10 deaths; Broach, 14 cases, 10 deaths; Surat, 3 cases, 1 death; Khandesh, 120 cases, 54 deaths; Nasik, 199 cases, 90 deaths; Thana, 125 cases, 90 fatal; Ratnagherry, 2 deaths; Poona, 283 cases, 147 deaths; Ahmednuggur, 109 cases, 51 deaths; Sholapore, 201 cases, 96 deaths; Satara, 197 cases, 109 deaths; Belgaum, 62 cases, 40 deaths; and Wudhwan, 10 cases, 7 deaths. The general summary of the season reports states there has been good rain in most districts. More is wanted in parts of the Deccan and Southern Maratha Country, especially in Sholapore. Standing crops are withering for want of rain in two talukas of Sholapore, and have been injured by excessive rain in parts of Gujarat and by insects in parts of Kurrachee and Upper Sind Frontier. Fodder is scarce in parts of Khandesh, Sholapore, Ahmednuggur, Nasik, Bijapore, and Belgaum. Cholera is general; fever and cattle-disease in parts of eight, and small-pox in parts of three districts.

CRICKET.

THE BOMBAY GYMKHANA vs. THE CARLTON CRICKET CLUB.

THIS annual match was fixed for, and should have been played, last Saturday week; but the tremendous downpour of rain which fell on that day rendered the original intention impossible to be carried out. Luckily, however, the Cocoanut Holiday offered an opportunity to make up for the disappointment felt by both clubs, and on Wednesday, in lovely weather and on an excellent wicket, the game was played. The Carlton was fairly represented, but the Gymkhana did not put its strongest team in the field, a fact which makes the victory which they gained all the more creditable, though it must not be supposed that the Gymkhana team was in any way a weak one—none could possibly be called so which included amongst its members players such as Gaddum, Mactier, and Newnham. It seems strange that on a holiday, and when there is only one day to play an important match in, punctuality cannot be observed by the gentlemen invited to play. The Carlton team was not in fault in this respect, and the result was that though the game was notified to begin at eleven o'clock, it, as a fact, was not till twenty minutes to twelve that the first ball was bowled to Gymkhana lost the toss and had to go out), and about five substitutes had to field for the home club.

Macmullen and Forde were first representatives of the Carlton, and Newnham and Gaddum were selected for the attack. Fast run-getting is not easy with such bowlers, and it took a considerable time before six runs had been scored, when Macmullen scooped up an easy catch off Gaddum and was secured by Hardie. (One wicket for six runs.) Horace Harrington joined Forde, who was playing very carefully, and the former at once became very busy with the slow bowler (Gaddum), who changed ends with his colleague. The result was that very shortly after, Forde was caught in the slips. (Two wickets for sixteen runs.) The Carlton captain now came in, but Newnham at once placed him hors de combat. (Three wickets for sixteen runs.) Herbert Harrington became his brother's partner, and these two at once brought up 29 on the board, the former making a fine off drive, from the slow bowler, for three. Carnegy relieved Gaddum, and at 25 a fine catch off Newnham by Kerr rid the Gymkhana of the elder brother. (Four wickets for 25 runs.) Two runs later, Hall, the new comer, was caught by Blackwell (five wickets for 27 runs), and Devlin, the hard hitter, came in. Thirty went up at 12-35, and at 33 Horace Harrington was clean bowled by Newnham (six wickets down), and Pritchard, another hard hitter, took his place. Horace Harrington's innings was a very careful one, and had it not been for the stand he made, his side's score would have looked very foolish. The new combination was not prolific. Newnham uprooted Devlin's middle stump when only 3 more runs were made (seven wickets for 36 runs), and Wallick came in. Pritchard was vigorous while he lasted, but at 45 he was run out for 9 (which included a fine leg hit for [illegible] and Jolley, who succeeded him, was clean bowled by Gaddum, who had gone on again, vice Carnegy. (Eighth and ninth wickets down for 45 runs.) Cruickshank joined Wallick, and after making three runs only, was "scattered" by Newnham, and the innings closed for the modest total of 90 at three minutes past one o'clock. The bowling and fielding of the Gymkhana were good, especially with regard to Kerr at point one end and longstop the other.

Gaddum	90	24	1	3
Newnham	85	10	11	6
Carnegy	35	12	2	1

Gaddum bowled a wide.

At 1-15 the Gymkhana sent in Penny and Mardell to face the trundling of Cruickshank and Jolley; and the former batsman had a bit of luck off Jolley, while Mardell was nearly run out shortly after. The bowlers were trundling with great accuracy, and therefore the run-getting was very slow, until Mardell made a fine square-leg hit for 4. Three runs later, Penny ran himself out (one wicket for 13 runs), and Mactier came in. The result was a long stand, in the course of which Mactier had considerable luck. At luncheon time, the home team's score stood at 34 for one wicket, and the two batsmen each not out 13.

Play was resumed at 3 p.m. and leather-hunting again ensued. 40 went up on the board at 3-5 p.m. At 3-15 the Carlton total was passed, and three minutes later 50 was telegraphed. At 53 Cruickshank, who had been bowling with great patience, got through Mardell's defence, and this batsman retired after having played a very careful innings of 22. (Two wickets for 53 runs.) Blackwell joined Mactier, and the run-getting recommenced at once, with even more vigour than before: 60, 70, 80, and 90 went up with great rapidity, and it was not until 4-40 that Blackwell was run out, having played a good innings of 28 runs. This partnership was productive of 47 runs during its duration. (Three wickets for 90 runs.) Carnegy came in, and was clean bowled first ball. (Four wickets for 90 runs.) Gaddum followed, and the century was hoisted at 4-53, but five runs later the new batsman in playing a ball to leg, was too soon for it, and unfortunately played it within the bowler's reach. (Five wickets for 105 runs.) Newnham joined Mactier, and the Carlton[illegible]ians were warmed up again. At 117 Mactier fell to Hale for a fine though risky innings of 45, made with the usual quota of hard smiting. (Six wickets down.) Kerr was next in, and another stand was made, which might have been longer, had it not been for a mistake on the part of the umpire (acknowledged by that functionary) which led to Newnham's retirement for a careful [illegible]

NONDESCRIPTS VS. MARINE BATTALION.

THE same day several energetic spirits of the Gymkhana organised a match on their own account against a team of the Marine Battalion (on the ground behind the Lines). The "Marines" were flushed with victories over two European teams, but were unable to make up the total required to win against the Nondescripts. If their batting had been as good as their bowling and fielding the result might have been different. Good coaching and practice is required to give the batsmen the confidence and knowledge which they at present lack. Shaw, roundarm, bowled very well and steadily, and has good pace and break, but was severely punished on several occasions. Pandoo (medium round) secured five wickets, and was much on the spot.

The Nondescripts, winning the toss went in on a very bumpy wicket, R. Smith and Faulkener facing the bowling. Unluckily at his third ball Smith played into his wicket. (One for 0.) Prevost then joined Faulkener, and runs began to come merrily, both batsmen playing confidently, until at 20 Faulkener went out to Sham, and was smartly stumped. Hills was next man, and played steadily while Prevost ran up the runs, making a big hit nearly into the large well. He was let off in the out field twice, owing to the glare of the sun, and eventually put one up to third man, and retired for 30. Hawes who succeeded, was unluckily badly rapped on the fingers early, and only "totalled up" 4. Jervoise joined Hills, who was now beginning to hit, and the two had scored individually 14 and 17 when the sixth wicket fell for 77. Thereafter little of consequence was done, and the whole side were out for 90 by 3 o'clock. The Nondescripts selected Hills and Faulkener to trundle, and the first two wickets fell for only 5 runs, one to the credit of either bowler. Suckier, who was in first wicket down, smacked Hills viciously to the on for 3 and 4, when he was held by Chope off Hills. Gopall's innings was a most creditable exhibition, as he hit freely and well, though had the fielding been smarter, and the chances given held, his score would not have been so large. He was well held eventually for 31 by Jervoise in the slips off Hills, who was bowling like a book. The only stand made by the later wickets was by Sing, who knocked up double figures by singles. The last three wickets fell in three consecutive balls to Hills,

THE BOMBAY FIRE BRIGADE AND THE INSURANCE COMPANIES.

THE Finance Chronicle and Insurance Circular, in an article on the taxation of Fire Insurance in India, says:—The injustice of taxing fire insurance companies for the maintenance of a municipal fire establishment is probably nowhere carried to greater lengths than in Bombay. The estimated cost of the fire brigade—a singularly inefficient one, it may be observed—for the current year is £2,500. The amount realised from the forty-odd insurance companies represented in Bombay—however, is nearly £3,000, or £500 more than is required to meet the object for which the tax is imposed. RETURN OF THE CHIEF JUSTICE.—Sir Richard Garth, we were glad to see, took his seat on the Bench at this Hgt. Court, yesterday morning, in the court presided over by himself and Justice O'Kinealy. On his lordship taking his seat, the senior Government Pleader, Babu Unnodaprosad Bannerjee, on behalf of himself and the native Bar, expressed his gratification at his lordship's return in renewed health. Sir Richard Garth thanked the pleader for his good wishes, and then proceeded with the routine work of his court.

FOOTBALL IN WATER.—No one can deny, after witnessing the performances on the Maidan on Saturday evening, that football players display unlimited pluck in the pursuit of their favourite game. Notwithstanding that the rain was pouring down in torrents, and that the ground on which the game was played was in some places upwards of a foot deep in water, still Mr. Truffit's team, and that of the Calcutta Club turned out nearly ready to do battle with one another as if the sun was brightly shining and the ground fit to play upon. To describe the game as football under such circumstances would be absurd. To attempt to describe the play is, therefore, unnecessary, but the result was that the Calcutta team obtained two tries for nothing on behalf of their opponents. DISHONEST MAHOMEDAN STUDENTS.—At the Presidency Magistrate's Court, Egmore, yesterday, before Mr. C. Ramachendra Iyer, Syed Ahmed and Babu Meah, two Mahomedan students, were charged with theft of two gold armlets set with diamonds and rubies, of the value of Rs. 1,000, the property of one Abdoolah Saib. The prosecutor, Ghoolam Ahmed, stated that he was a Mahomedan schoolmaster, and the prisoners were his scholars; that on the 14th instant, the jewels were sent to him for the purpose of being estimated. He received the same in the presence of the prisoners and placed them in a box, and some time after left the room. On his return the box was missing, as well as the prisoners. On the 21st instant he gave information to the police, when Sub Inspector Jay Sing, of the D. Division, immediately arrested the prisoners, recovered the jewels. Both prisoners pleaded guilty and were sentenced to eighteen months' rigorous imprisonment each. The first prisoner, Syed Ahmed, was further charged with theft of a silver box, also the property of the prosecutor in the previous case, and was sentenced to one months' additional imprisonment.—Mail

THE SCIENTIFIC SYSTEM OF DRESS CUTTING ENABLES
EVERY LADY TO BE HER OWN DRESSMAKER.

BY this system you can cut any garment worn by Lady or child without the use of any paper patterns and with a saving of from 1½ to 3 yards of material. With the scientific system no trouble is incurred, if the instructions are followed (which any person can master without the least trouble) it is impossible to make a misfit. The system has been tested in all kinds of forms, and it will never fail to make a perfect fit.

Mrs. VOLKL, sole agent for the Scientific System, guarantees to instruct any lady, in a few easy lessons how to cut from measure, any garment worn by lady or child, so that it will fit perfectly without alteration. Each lady will receive personal instructions till perfect for the sum of Rs. 30, including a complete set of instruments.

Apply by letter to "V." care of this paper.

GANDY'S AMERICAN COTTON BELTING

TO those having the use and care of machinery it is of the greatest importance to know what is the best belting to use to transmit power to stand and to all the answer is, USE THE GANDY BELT.

It has imitators, and this is the strongest proof possible, that is an article that is worth spending cash on to imitate. If it were a worthless article, or one that had not been VERY SUCCESSFUL, no one would go to the expense and trouble to imitate it. Imitation is the highest form of flattery, and those who imitate the "GANDY" belt are proclaiming to all that the GANDY belt is the best that has ever been put before the public.

The GANDY belt has acquired such a deservedly high reputation, that belt users, after ... to Gandy and declare that, notwithstanding the difference in ... to use the American Cotton Belt made, only by the
